

Professor Dr. med. Helmut Madjar
Chairman Breast Centre and Dept. of Gynecology
Vice Director German Diagnostic Clinic
Aukammallee 33, D 65191 Wiesbaden

1982 Graduation in medicine

1983 Research scholarship at the Ultrasonic Institute Sydney, Australia

1984-1999 University of Freiburg, Specialisation in gynaecology and oncology

1993 DFG research- project on Colour Doppler Diagnosis of Breast Lesions

Since 1999 Professor Madjar is head of the Department of Gynecology, German Diagnostic Clinic in Wiesbaden. He is specialized in gynecologic oncology and senology including breast cancer diagnosis and treatment. He has a large number of scientific publications, several books and has been very active in teaching since many years. His current research activities include ultrasonic features of breast pathology, Doppler techniques for diagnosis and treatment control, as well as new technologies like contrast harmonic imaging, pulse inversion and others. Dr. Madjar is Vice President of the International Breast Ultrasound School and his activities in several national and international scientific boards are related to improve quality of breast ultrasound.

Further positions:

Teaching professor at the University of Freiburg

Vice - president and founding member of the International Breast Ultrasound School

DEGUM Stage III (German Ultrasound Society)

German Gynecologic Society

German Senologic Society

International Senologic Society

Member of several national and international boards to improve quality of breast diagnosis and treatment