IBUS Masterclass in Multimodality Breast Imaging and Guided Interventions

The 33rd anniversary of the IBUS Breast Imaging School has stimulated us to take an interdisciplinary-focused look at recent developments in breast imaging and to evaluate the current role of breast ultrasound in comparison to other imaging methods. The influence of artificial intelligence (AI) on the future of senology will be discussed.

This IBUS masterclass covers the basics and advances of multimodality breast imaging, imaging-pathology correlation, staging, treatment, AI and ethics. It also compares the practice and challenges of senology in different regions of the world. The course includes interactive case reading, tumour board discussions and hands-on workshops on interpretation, device handling and biopsy techniques. Join us in Zaventem (Brussels, Belgium) for this comprehensive and practical course celebrating 33 years of IBUS education.
